WELCOME TO BOYS BIG SUCCESS

Supper & Entertainment at Womans Club Bring Out Immense Crowd Last Saturday Night.

Sonoma's first formal welcome home affair for the boys back from war was given under the auspices of the Womans Club at the club house on the night of Washington's birthday. The supper at 7 o'clock was attended by 24 young soldiers and sailors who have served the colors and many more came later to participate in the dance and enjoy the vaudeville show which were features later in the evening.

The tables set for the boys in the club parlor were beautifully decorated, a full rigged minature ship in a sea of violets being used as a center piece and at each place a tiny boutonniere of red, white and blue The favors were little tents, and other table decorations were symbolic of the occasion, aeroplanes, cannon and flags being used most effectively. At the prettily appointed board were seated many of the young patriots of whom Sonoma Valley feels justly proud and with them were the honorary Grand Army guests, Messers Hibbard and Warriner of the days of '61.

An address of welcome was made to the guests by acting president of the club, Hannah Appleton, who in a short and cordial speech greeted the patriots and assured them of the high regard in which the club and community holds each and every one who answered their country's call. The boys did ample justice to the fine repast served and at 8 o'clock joined the growing crowd of friends and relatives who began to arrive by that hour and thronged the assembly hall where dancing and cabaret features were the attraction. Not a seat was available by half past eight and even the gallery was packed with spectators.

The program opened with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner", by Mrs. Lulu Emparan, new president-elect of the club. Dancing to the music of Craib and Wickham was then inaugurated and between dances program numbers were introduced.

Al Jensen was heard in "When the Boys Come Home", and as usual his fine voice won much applause.

Bish & Trudgen (Rastus & Tempus) Co., in tabloid minstrels was well received. The clever jokes and "When Alexander Takes His Ragtime Band To France", registered a big hit. Cecil Hunter, carrying a real German helmet and acting as mascot of the aggregation, aided in putting over this good number.

Gladys Simmons in juvenile character songs, "I wish I Was a Janitor's Child" and "One Go Zin To", was costumed very attractively and acted her part delightfully.

Virginia Pommeroy's interpretative dance, "The Moth and the Flame", was a pretty conception and the "Valse Danseuse", played by Miss Poppe was well adapted to the theme. The costume of flame and smoke georgette worn by the little dancer was very effective.

Mrs. Ralph Hotz gave a vocal gem, "Springtime", and was in excellent voice.

Mr. Sokalay created a furor by his singing of an aria from Donizetti and the "La Donne Mobile" from Rigoletti. Mr. Sokalay has a well trained voice, the true artist's temperment and his singing is always a treat for music lovers. Miss Poppe's finished accompaniments added much to the artistic side of these numbers.

Mr. McManeman of Santa Rosa gave a brilliant piano solo.

"Italian dialect songs, "Antonio My Boy", and when "Tony Goes Over the Top", given in costume by Miss Myrtle Minkel were among the best numbers of the long program. Her clear, bell-like soprano, good acting and attractive make-up, earned much applause for the popular singer.

Henry Weber Jr., and Miss Pommeroy in "You'r So Pretty", was a dainty and clever act and for an encore, Weber's fine voice was heard in a solo, "Where the Morning Glories Grow."

During the evening Mrs. F. T. Duhring addressed the audience on the "League of Nations" conference bringing a stirring message from ex-president Taft.

Dancing and refreshments concluded the memorable evening which was a brilliant event aad a financial success also, $100 being the proceeds for the clubhouse fund.

The allies flags, the stars and stripes and the service flag were conspicious decorations in the auditorium and the ladies desire to thank the city of Sonoma and the Mayor for loaning the emblems for the occasion.

Mrs. Phil Leiser has returned home after several weeks visit with her mother in Oakland.

PLANT TOMATOES MARCH 12

Growers of Sonoma Valley Will Take Advice As Given at The Farm Bureau Meeting.

Farmers who anticipate raising tomatoes for the canneries this season are to begin planting seed on the 12th of March. A number of growers attended the Farm Bureau meeting at Santa Rosa this week and heard Dean Hunt of U. C., and other noted speakers. Among the interesting information brought from the meeting is the time for planting tomatoes which will be of intense interest here as many acres will be planted out to supply the big cannery demand this year. While no price has been fixed, it is predicted that the figure will be between $15 and $20 per ton. An average crop in California is eight ton to the acre but in Sonoma some farmers took off as high as 20 ton to the acre. Last year was not a banner year as the tomatoes did not set well and those that did mature were damaged by very early rain.

This season increased acreage will be planted out to tomatoes and by June the first, the seedlings started this month will be ready to set out.

The Sebastiani cannery will be operated to full capacity and the association will also handle some of the crop raised here.

Mr. Chester Studley is to put 20 acres into tomatoes this year.

Duhring has been asked by the Board of Supervisors to confer and advise with them at a meeting to be held on Tuesday, March 4th, in regard to the proposed bond issue for good roads in our county and he would be pleased to hear any suggestions from any tax-payer regarding the proposition. Let him have your views.

FIRE DESTROYS STORE AT FETTERS

Ringressy and Rowe's Building and Stock Go Up In Flames Early Wednesday Morning.

About 1 o'clock Wednesday morning the grocery store of Ringressy and Rowe at Fetters Springs was discovered to be on fire and by the time help was summoned the flames had gained such headway that nothing could be saved. The store and contents were a complete loss estimated by the proprietors to be about $9,000 with partial insurance. The fire was first discovered by Mrs. C. Clementi who aroused the neighbors including Mrs. Meinhardt and Mrs. Buck whose descriptions of the blaze seem to indicate that the fire started in the ceiling or under the roof of the building and probably from the electric wiring. It was raining very hard and everything adjoining the frame structure was exceedingly wet which probably saved the neighborhood from a serious conflagration. The interior of the store however was a sea of flame and smoke as Jack Poulson a passerby ran in and attempted to save some of the stock by bursting in the back door.

Mesdame Ringressy and Rowe were hastily summoned from their homes near by but were unable to render any aid or give any cause for the fire as everything had been all right at closing time and they concurred in the theory that electric wires must have started the blaze.

The post office situated in the store suffered little loss except in a small lot of stamped envelopes as everything else of value was in the safe which remained intact..

Mrs. Ringressy estimates the loss at $9,000 and says the store will not be rebuilt. Three thefts and two fires, the former one having destroyed a barn on the place, has discouraged the owners. Lt. Ringressy, one of the partners who founded the mercantile establishment six years ago, is in Germany with the Army of Occupation. His partner, Bob Rowe, is playing hockey with a team in Seattle.

The store and stock which was consumed by flames made a spectacular blaze which was seen for miles around.

J. J. Dunbar has accepted the agency for Savage tires. These high grade tires are made in California and sold on close margins of profit.

MRS. EMPARAN CLUB PRESIDENT

Elected at Womans Club Meeting Last Friday For New Term. Treasurer and Recording Secretary Also Named. Prof. Golton Speaks.

Mrs. Lulu Emparan was given a handsome vote at the Womans Club last Friday and was elected president of the club for the coming year. She has been an earnest and enthusiastic member and never occupied the chair before although repeatedly asked to accept the honor since she went in as a charter member some 15 years ago.. Only last year she brought in 50 new members and she is regarded as one of the most valuable of club women, sure to inspire new life in the organization.

Mrs. John Wagnon was returned to the office of treasurer and Mrs. Carrie Burlingame to the recording secretaryship. Other offices including trustees will be filled at the next regular meeting.

The social hour on Friday in charge of Mrs. Rae Hunter and assisted by Mrs. Joe Keiser as hostess was enjoyed by all present..

Prof. L. H. Golton of the High School gave a timely talk on the labor problem in this country.. He quoted the warning relative to making democracy safe for the world when the world had been made safe for democracy. He traced the development and growth of industry in America from the year 1890, from which time he set forth the growing complexity and danger of a growing population unAmericanized and involved in the throes of a struggle not unlike that of its brethern in the crowded centers of Europe. Unrest and discontent developed and as evidence of its continuance, he spoke of the Seattle strike, the Mooney case, unrest in England and Canada, the movement to confiseate the productive industries, the I. W. W. and the Bolsheviki..

How to solve this condition and the difficulty confronting those who would solve it was aptly set forth by the speaker who went into the points of view of the workers, many of whom are engaged in enervating occupations which tend to destroy their real relation to industry, their duty to the state, their home and personal up-building.

Prof. Golton placed the responsibility of solution of the problem upon the employers through fairer treatment, profit sharing and vitalizing of industry; upon the government itself through; Limiting Immigration; Americanizing of aliens; Revolutionizing of the public school system through vocational education etc. In regard to the latter point, Mr. Golton said;

"At the present time about five per cent of the children who enter grammar school never complete the high school. The other 95 per cent are thrown adrift on the world to shift for itself. It may have occured to some of you that the school system of America, and not the western frontier, is what caused America to be characterized as the land of opportunity. We know otherwise now. We know that the American school system has given an opportunity for some to attain the highest stations in life. It has not aimed to serve those who could not or would not enter a university. It has not given a square deal to the 95 per cent of the young men and women who cannot or will not go beyond the high school. The high school of tomorrow will teach the youth those things necessary to complete and abundant living. It will teach him to take care of his health; it will build up in him a social consciousness; it will build up in him habits of efficiency; it will teach him how to enjoy his leisure time; it will train him in a richer and more ideal home life; it will prepare him in some definite vocation; it will teach him to aovid blind alleys and enervating tasks; it will make of the laboring man of today that which our ideal standards of life intend that he should be.

"The next ten years will see the American school system so revolutionized that the 95 per cent who never enter or never complete a high school education will discover that the high school is an avenue of opportunity and theonly avenue; that it will make them personally efficient in a definite vocation, at the same time that it is developing a civic consciusness and how to live more abundantly.

"When the school rises to its opportunity and urgent duty, and exalts the nobility of labor by teaching efficient living, then and then only can our present institutions be preserved, then and then only can we be prevented from reverting back to the primeval chaos, then and then only can democracy be made safe for democracy."

Refreshments rounded out this instructive and enjoyable club session.

SONOMA CHICKS IN BIG DEMAND

Many Fluffy Youngsters Being Hatched Out and Being Shipped From This Valley.

Baby chicks from Sonoma valley hatcheries are in big demand this year and local hatcheries are working overtime and to full capacity in order to fill the large orders from the middle West and Coast points which are being stocked up with some of our famous strains.

One reason for the big demand this spring is the fact that poultry men had let their stock run very low, or sold it all off on account of the war and the feed problems last year but they are now stocking up again and the former success with Sonoma baby chix make big repeat orders from old customers a daily occurrence and is keeping Sonoma poultry producers hustling.

Fred Hansen, of the Sonoma Valley Hatchery, has 45 incubators of 360 capacity going and is dispatching his chicks to Montana and Idaho as well as to various sections of California. For several years he has been turning out good stock and now has a big reputation and orders way ahead.

Fred Schell also reports the biggest hatch he has ever turned out and says he can sell the chicks as fast as they come out. He has a 50 incubator plant at Schellville.

Frank Rhode and Giegrich & Callahan of Vineburg have also booked many orders and will ship many chicks this season to their customers.

Gigerich & Callahan ship as far as Colorado a 72 hour journey, and the chix arrive safe and sound. This firm is filling orders for between 30,000 and 40,000, white leghorns exclusively, in lots of 1000 and 3000 to a customer.

Mrs. Dora Stofen was up from Berkeley this week.

Sonoma County Is Awake

All voters are urged to register in order to be able to vote at the bond election which is to authorize funds for the building of permanent highways in Sonoma County. This is the great dawn of a new era and will be a test of of the faith of our people in this section of California. When we consider and observe what other sections of California have done in carving out their destinies and turning the flood waters of prosperity into their boundary lines, we must see that Sonoma County has slumbered and blundered. We obviously expected to "get by" without putting our hands in our pockets. We never doubted Sonoma County's claim to recognition but we lost sight of the simplest principal of psychology, the tendency of humans to travel along the line of least resistance. This inate tendency coupled with automobiles and confronted with a chain of highways smooth as glass, and irresistable of travel, brought business and population into many other wide awake communities whose foresight and business acumen were more highly developed than ours. Convinced by experience that even in counties far less favored, agriculturally, scenically and historically, the highway building has been the key to wonderful development and increased resources, the people of this fertile and beautiful portion of California are eager to apply the modern methods of advancement and to get busy on the new road building program. A bond issue of $2,000,000 to carry out the plans of Federal Engineer Lynch in Sonoma County is to be voted upon shortly.

Wilson's Message On League of Nations

The return of President Wilson from the Peace Conference and his vital message sounding confidence in the proposed league of nations' effectivness and in this country's backing and support of it is the great event and vibrant note of the past week in the United States. Ordinarily the President's messages, or rather Wilson's messages are rich in food for thought, wars aftermath has subcharged this latest message with a potentiality far greaer than has ever characterized a president's talk before, because it is so far reaching from a standpoint both geographic and humane.

Presidents messages are usually more or less circumscribed and the problems dealt with touching upon international points have heretofore been touched upon diplomatically or as between governments. Now the diplomatic or "hands off" has suddenly been superceded by an avowal of a heart and soul interest in behalf of the "peoples who constitute the nations of the world."

This new and deep note of humanity which the President sounds is reaching around the world. He sets forth that the United States has the confidence of the peoples of the world. They are looking to us no longer as a model nation but as a mediator or arbiter, a deciding integral factor in the settlement of problems which have long beset the oppressed. The power for good, inherent in this country's ideals and aims, must be thrown into the balance and not reserved, it must be a work 'a day interest, a practical one. President Wilson pledges himself to fight for the accomplishment of this purpose in order to fulfill the pledge we have made and the hopes we have builded in the hearts of those who need our help in the establishment of a world guarantee of peace and justice. He points out that those with their ear to the ground realize that men and women are determined that their aspirations and convictions shall be realized and put into effect, if not in one way then in another . In this connection Mr. Wilson says: "The nations of the world have set their heads now to do a great thing and they are not going to slacken their purpose. And when I speak of the nations of theworld, I do not speak of the governments of the world. I speak of the peoples who constitute the nations of the world. They are in the saddle and they are going to see to it that if their present governments do not do their will, some other governments shall. And the secret is out and the present governments know it."

Just how far the endorsement of this far reaching, humane program championed by Mr. Wilson would carry the United States or involve it is hard to forsee, but neither can we fortell the destiny of the country under the old system of unforseen antagonisms, meaningless scraps of paper, consciousless covenants and unguaranteed promises from powers remote or sinister in hidden purpose or design. Who could have fortold the unparelled adventure of the United States in the recent crisis?

Love of humanity is no mean sentiment or one to be put aside for self centered nationalism. If in the present plan to intercede for universal betterment, we find ourselves confronted with impracticability or defeat, even then as the poet maintains of the divine passion, "it's better to have loved and lost, than never to have loved at all."

Unfortunate Leaderships

Much of the trouble which looms ahead in the nation on the labor and prohibition questions can be ascribed to unfortunate leaderships. The sane, conservative, well meaning seekers for redress are led into alarming complications while the country is brought to the brink of real crisis through the fanatical maneuvers of professional agitators.

Labor has problems to be solved and they are being worked out along sound economic lines tho the rank and file are being haranged with revolutionary ideas, some of which are openly admitted to be, not for the settlement of present conditions, but for the overthrow of the present system of government. Workmen of the United States should hold aloof from the lure of such propaganda and lead the rest of the world along the lines of a safe and sane industrial progress, slower perhaps in realization, but more permanent and far reaching in the eventual good. As we are leading in other things, so we should lead in industrial progress and should not harken to the violent methods of illiterate Bolshevists who would plunge this and other countries into chaos in order to reap the uncertain fruits of anarchy.

Had it not been for paid agitators and extremists, temperance and not dry prohibition would be the watchword in the United States today. Instead of the autocratic, artificial instrument of the law, which is destined to strip the people of liberty and confiscate property, we would have continued betterment through education, economics and natural channels, backed up by a public sentiment which would enforce laws instead of a spirit seeking to disregard the sumptary legislation which is to entail spies, gum shoe men and a police power, both costly and un-American.

Unfortunate leaderships have brought us to the brink of conditions which are indeed alarming and shake the very foundation of a country which has surely made wonderful and satisfactory strides, both industrially and morally. Yet to note the labor disturbances here, the novice might conclude that anarchy must strike the chains from hands of industrial slaves, tear the grasping hands of the exploiter from the very throats of working men and that saviours of mens souls through agitation and law must fling back the Demon Rum and all the allied demons from the homes of the land and Carrie Nationize every community where the blight of liquor has withered the manhood and womanhood therein in order to restore a normal condition among our people. Such is the deduction to be made by present activities and that they are woefully extreme and unjustified is obvious.

NEAL DODGE SENDS VIEWS OF GERMANY

Mrs. Carter is in receipt of a letetr dated January 27th, from Coblenz, Germany, containing views of German points of interest visited by the radio operator, Neal Dodge, who is her grandson. He was with the 3rd army (of occupation).

The soldier boy says it is hard to realize that they really are in Germany but such is the case.

Among the points of interest visited and described in the letter was a castle, Schlov Stolzenself, owned by the Kaiser and visited frequently by the royal family. Dodge went through the castle and found it very interesting. In describing it he says:

"The site of the castle was used by the Romans as a watch tower and later a castle was built there. The original fortress was destroyed by the French in 1800 and was rebuilt and remains as it is today. It certainly is very old and very cold. I would not care to live there. But there are many wonderful old relics, armor, paintings and furnishings, all interesting on account of their asociations and antiquity. What a wonderful fine view from there! It is some 375 feet above the river Rhine which is almost directly below it. Leading up to the castle is a very fine road lined with vine covered walls and big trees, while recrossing itself many times are very artistic bridges.

"We have been having snow all day and it looks very, very pretty. I wish it would snow good and deep. This is the third snowfall here but none of them has been very heavy."

Dodge also sends photographs which he took of the church they attend which was formerly the place of worship of the German military men. It is distinctive in that the military note predominates on the prayer books, crosses and statues of saints. Worship of military and diety were evidently intended to be identical.

VIRGINIA LOWELL HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

Virginia Lowell, pretty little four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lowell, gave a birthday party to a number of her little friends and neighbors on Tuesday. The pretty home was the scene of great animation as the young folks joined in making the afternoon one of jollity for their young hostess.

Maxine Hunter, Margaret and Thelma Rubke, Margaret and Frances Cereghino, Will and Temple Clewe, the Knight and Pauli children and others were at the party and all had a wonderful time.

The decorations were almond blossoms and a white and pink color scheme was carried out in all the details, the birthday cake and smaller cakes being frosted in these colors. The "eats" and gleaming candles on the birthday cake were no small part of the enjoyment of the day.

Many pretty gifts were received by the little hostess.

OFFERS 10 YEAR CONTRACT TO GRAPE MEN

A. Perelli-Minetti, of a Ukiah wine firm, has offered grape growers a ten year contract for their grapes at $14.30 per ton. His firm proposes to establish an industry, the nature of which he did not state, intimating that they would handle all the grapes in the vicinity if the contracts were taken. The grapes must contain 22 per cent sugar. Here is what Perelli-Minetti had to say among other things:

"Feeling that wine making might be possible again within four or five years, and feeling that then prices might be higher and therefore you would naturally desire such prices, we feel that to guarantee a return of our investment, which will make possible for you gentlemen to grow grapes on a paying basis, we must have a contract for a term of ten years with a clause that after four years during which you have been delivering grapes at the prices specified in this contract, new laws should make possible wine making, then you shall receive the same price paid by Sonoma and Napa counties, less the cost of freight between here and Sonoma county."

QUIET WEDDING AT MADRONE

At the Farquar ranch at Madrone station Sunday, a quiet wedding took place when Mrs. M. I. Farquar became the bride of L. M. Channel, of Oakland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Cookman of the Sonoma Congregational church. The bride was accompanied by her sons, Bert and Fred and the groom by L. L. Cannon of Penngrove, brother of the bride.

The bride was attired in a blue tailored suit and carried a boquet of carnations.

The home was charmingly decorated with spring blossoms and greens. Miss Wickham of Eldridge played played the wedding march.

After the wedding a reception was held to which a number of relatives and friends were bidden. Mrs. Channel is the daughter of Mrs. R. D. Clark and the late Elmer Clark of Penngrove. Mrs. Clark resides with her daughter at the Madrone ranch. The bride is the mother of three sons, Fred Farquar of this city who is with the Petaluma & Santa Rosa Electric Railroad, Ben Farquar of Woodland and Corporal Thomas Farquar, now with the American army in France.

Mr. Channel was born in Virginia but came west a few years ago. He is a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge of Seattle and was recently presented with a fifty year veteran jewel. He has been engaged in the real estate business.

PETALUMA WILL IMPROVE STREETS

Election to Be Called to Vote Bonds for the Purpose of Paving Streets Over Which the Highway Is to Be Routed.

The Petaluma City Council at a meeting held Monday night decided to call a bond election for $60,000 for the improvement of the streets through that city on which the State highway is to pass. It includes a twenty-five foot road with four-inch concrete base over certain streets and curb to curb over the balance of the distance with concrete culverts.

After the meeting had adjourned and one of the councilmen had left the others decided that it would have been better to have made it a curb-to-curb affair all the way at a cost of $85,000. The question will come up at the next meeting and settled one way or the other and the necessary ordinances passed for the election. It is certain that the streets are to be placed in repair for the traffic that is anticipated this summer.

SURPRISED ON FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Potter of Schellville were pleasantly surprised on Tuesday evening by a few of their many friends, who came to felicitate them on their first wedding anniversary. Mr. Potter and his amiable wife received their guests most cordially and their commodious home was the scene of a very delightful evening. A fine luncheon was partaken of and amid hearty congratulations the esteemed couple were presented with a number of useful and beautiful gifts including those of cut glass, cotton and paper.

DINNER PRECEDED SHOWER FOR BRIDE ELECT

Miss Adele Chauvet Complimented Last Saturday Night.

The shower given for Miss Adele Chauvet by her young friends last Saturday night was a jolly affair and the dinner which preceded the merrymaking was an elabrate one. Miss Rose Pagani was hostess and covers were laid for eleven. At each place was a dainty hand painted place card in floral design, and violets, maiden-hair ferns and snow drops strewed the table, the center piece of which was two large kewpies, one dressed as a bride with snowy veil, and the other as the groom with a minature silk hat. The room was decorated with redwood boughs and pepper wood and on the streamers of green and yellow which reached from corner to corner, hung the aluminum cooking utensils with which the pretty bride-to-be was showered. Many useful and costly gifts were included in the array and the unwrapping of them caused considerable merriment. Music, dancing and games followed the dinner and shower.

Miss Pagani was much complimented on the menu served to her young friends. It consisted of chicken, home made noodles Italian style, combination salad, entrees, vegetables, delicious dessert and black coffee.

The young folks present at the party consisted of Misses Beth Weaver, Jessie Hiser, Del Chauvet, Mary Schnapps, Rose Pagani, Messers Chas Pagani, Steve Griffith, E. Coates, E. Sobbe, "Honey" Chauvet and Chas. Doyle.

This is the first of a series of affairs to be given for Miss Chauvet and her intended, Mr. Doyle, who is recently returned from an aviation camp in Texas aand won his lieutenant's commission.

Some of Glen Ellen's charming matrons will shortly entertain for the popular young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lutgens of Sebastopol were here for Washington's birthday and attended the soldiers reception and dance.

WHO SAYS IT?

Slogging through the mud of France,
Camping in the rain;
Hiking in a frozen trance
Down some German plain;
"Fall in!"—hear the sergeant yell,
Far from home and clover;
Tell me, who the bally hell
Said the war "was over?"

Chow for breakfast—slum for noon—
Who says men are free
While the bugler's foolish tune
Pipes the reveille?
"Right dress!"—hear the sergeant buzz
From Mainz across to Dover;
Tell me who the hell it wuz
Said the war "was over?"

Cleaning up a mass of wire,
Stained with clotted blood
Where the big trucks bog and mire
In the winter mud;
Full of filth and fleas and fuzz—
Cannoneer and drover,
Tell me who the fat-head wuz
Said the war "was over?"

Cable the Peace Conference

America's prestige is at stake in the coming Victory Liberty Loan. The eyes of the world are fixed upon us. The nations of the world are going to rate us on this last effort. It is right that they should judge us, not by what we do in the heat of the struggle, but by our condition after the fight

One of the best guarantees of world peace for years to come would be the successful flotation of the Victory Liberty Loan for five or six billion dollars. Even a combination of powers inclined to start another war would hesitate in the face of such a display of tremendous national strength.

Every man who buys a Victory Liberty Bond next April, moreover, will be adding to the determination with which America speaks at the Peace Conference. There are undoubtedly going to be many moments during that Conference when every whit of the power of the United States will be needed to shape into actualities those ideals for which we entered the world struggle.

Let the cables carry into the Quai d'Orsay this message:

"America has oversubscribed her Fifth Liberty Loan by more than a billion dollars."

THINK STRAIGHT

This is a time for straight thinking. Make sure the other fellow is not talking drivel. Analyze his thought, don't follow it. He may be suffering with phraseologic hemorrhage. It is epidemic now-a-days like influenza and much more serious.

For instance in regard to the Victory Liberty Loan and these fellows who thumb their vests, frown wisely, and say "Let the banks do it. They are bursting with money." They are talking drivel. It sounds fine, but it isn't good sense. Nor is it good economics, which amounts to the same thing.

If the government thought it was wise to "let the banks do it," the government would let them do it. There would be no Victory Liberty Loan in the popular sense. But the government knows better than to let the banks do it.

This is the period of reconstruction right now. It is a period of many possibilities economically. One possibility is industrial depression. One preventative of industrial depression is plenty of money at favorable rates of interest to stimulate private enterprise. That means our banks must not be clogged with government securities. It means that we can't afford to "let the banks do it." The people must do it—do it from their earnings, present and future.

Think straight.

FARMERS IN BEST FINANCIAL SHAPE OF RECENT YEARS

Smooth Transition of Agriculture to Peace Basis Predicted by Federal Reserve Board

American farmers are in better financial shape than they have been for years, according to a recent report of the Federal Reserve Board at Washington, which also predicts a smooth transition of agriculture and industry from a war to a peace basis. The board's review of economic conditions throughout the country is based on detailed reports made to it by the governors of the twelve federal reserve banks.

"The farmer is said to be in the best financial shape for many years," the review says. "In the South he is able to hold his cotton for better prices and is marketing his output conservatively.

"Excellent crop prospects are reported from the wheat states of the West and from California. On the Pacific Coast the prospects for excellent crops are exceedingly bright."

"Victory year" crops, according to another government report, added $17,000,000,000 to our wealth. The principal contributions were:

Corn—2,582,814,000 bushels, $3,528,313,000.

Wheat—917,100,000 bushels, $1,874,623,000.

Oats—1,538,359,000 bushels, $1,092,423,000.

Barley—256,375,000 bushels, $235,269,000.

Rye—89,103,000 bushels, $134,947,000.

Potatoes—397,676,000 bushels, $475,731,000.

Hay—75,459,000 tons, $1,522,473,000.

Tobacco — 1,340,019,000 pounds, $374,318,000.

Apples—173,632,000 barrels, $229,990,000.

As a result of the flourishing condition of the farmer in general the government expects him to take a large block of Victory Liberty Loan Bonds in April.

BORN OF WAR

It is difficult yet to value accurately or in some instances to perceive all the war has brought to our national life or pruned from it. The things we think little now may appear to posterity the greatest. The Thrift Stamp idea seems to be one of these. Originated as a war emergency measure, it has taken hold; has appealed to the common sense of America, and may yet shape the destiny of the nation.

It is patent, now that the war is over, that the Thrift Stamp has come to stay. If we get nothing else out of the war but the hapit of saving, which begets the corollary simple living, we will have reaped the full fruit of the war. For a thrifty democracy is a firm democracy, a potent democracy, a democracy strong enough to preserve itself.

A man who saves is a better citizen than the man who does not save. He becomes a stockholder in his government and he is jealous for the welfare of that government in war and in peace. In war he will fight for it with his life. In peace he will protect it from those who would tear down.

As America saves from this day on so shall she grow in benign power and in the eyes of mankind. "A bank account for every American citizen" should be one of our national slogans.

The Thrift and War Savings Stamp idea is freighted with a mighty charge for the better in our national life.

The Thrift Stamp is backed by the United States government. Without doubt it is the greatest investment ever offered and it is in such a form that every American, big and little can take advantage of it.

SONOMA WORKERS GO TO NAPA

Big Factory of California Glove Company In That City Preparing Help For Reopening of Sonoma Branch.

A big contingent of local glove workers are making the trip to Napa now daily where they are being instructed in the Napa factory of the California Glove Company in the sewing and cutting of the kind of gloves which are soon to be turned out at the Sonoma branch.

The Sonoma workers formerly worked on army mitts but the higher grade commercial lines of gloves necessitate more skill and therefore more instruction. As a preliminary to starting up the local unit, the girls and young men who worked here last fall are making the trip in Dunham's auto bus each day to acquire the training they need from expert operators. The business men of Sonoma are helping to defray the expense of transportation in order to facilitate the reopening of the industry which was such a big asset to local business last year. The glove company has given assurance that the Sonoma factory will reopen just as soon as the help is competent to take up the new work and fill the kind of orders now coming in.

A representative of the Index-Tribune paid a visit to the big main factory at Napa Tuesday and found our local workers busy and enthusiastic. Mr. Earl Raymond, of the company, showed the visitor all around the big place and one could not fail to be impressed with the immense volume of business being done by this enterprising concern. Several hundred employees are engaged in the industry and every conceivable kind of glove is being manufactured. The finest grades of white kid gloves and the heaviest working glove are both turned out, the latter being put together by men (wax thread sewers).

Thousands of skins and hides are used in the cutting of the various kinds of gloves. One table alone contained skins valued at $17,000. Dog skins, rabbit skins, horse hides, pig skins, antelope and kid are just a few of the varieties.

Mr. Raymond was enthusiastic in discussing the business outlook and says the firm's business is fast being put on an after war basis and turning out commercial orders very rapidly. He says that the Sonoma branch of the factory was an unqualified success and predicts that it will be a valuable auxiliary when opened up again with the help now being drilled for the new work. He says the Sonoma workers show great aptitude and enthusiasm.

J. Milton Sobbe, of Glen Ellen, who lost an arm while fighting for his country in France is now at Staten Island hospital, New York, and the captain of the medical corps writes that his condition is good. The people of Glen Ellen and Native Sons in particular are awaiting the return of this former popular young man who has sacrificed so much in the war and his return will be marked by splendid tributes from his townspeople.

E. E. Bennett spent Tuesday and Wednesday in San Francisco on business connected with the poultry association.

MRS. R. P. HILL TO ADDRESS CITY TRUSTEES ON MEMORIAL

Mrs. R. P. Hill of Eldridge, who represents this valley in the matter of a soldiers memorial for Sonoma county, will address the trustees of Sonoma at their regular March session next Wednesday evening on the interesting topic. She will outline the proposal of the big hospital project at Santa Rosa which would necessitate the backing of every one in the county and will also tell of other proposed plans to commemorate the service of our soldiers and sailors in the recent war.

Mrs. Hill has suggested that the fine project of building a permanent highway in Sonoma county,, which is soon to be put to a vote, constitute the memorial, and that the road be dedicated and known as the Heroes Highway. As the hospital plan would probably have to be launched through another bond issue or through the pledge and payment of $35 each from 2000 people in the county, the dedication of the highway and the assurance of it through the interest which it would arouse as a memorial proposition seems an excellent suggestion.

Mrs. Hill will sound out the sentiment of the town along these lines through the city dads when they convene Wednesday.

John Guibergia has purchased a Ford.

Miss Clara King of Santa Rosa, a former Eldridge resident, and the fiancee of Lt. Weston Anderson, has been visiting in Fresno.

Misses O'Brien of San Francisco were week end guests at the Hunter-Hanger home.

Ralph Busby, James Gottenberg and Ray Gottenberg motored to Fres no last Saturday.

Emmett Gottenberg of San Francisco was the guest of his folks over the last week end.

The name of Fred Nonella appeared recently in the casualty list from over seas. He was last heard of in Belgium. His brother Steve died at Camp Kearney.

Miss Ethel Evans was up from the Normal School over the last week end. Her brother Clark, of the navy, is enroute to France.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evans were here over the holiday guests at the Kennell home.

Now is the time to have that engine overhauled at the Sonoma Machine Works.

EARTHQUAKE FELT HERE TUESDAY

A sharp shock of earthquake was felt here at 2.40 p. m., last Tuesday. While of short duration it brought many of our residents out into the streets where they discussed the possibility of another one and joked concerning the temblor. Some said "the higher ups are shaking for the drinks before the new $3.20 tax on liquor goes into effect" while others oppined that the earth was shuddering at the thoughts of a bone dry California.

No damage was reported from the quake although it was felt throughout the state.

THE INVENTORY DAY

They hustled and they rustled
Oh say! how they did tussel,
With arithmetic they learned so long ago,
The inventory tax and the awful awful facts
Of doping out percentage, just so.
Now the wets are being given
Every jolt that "drys" devise,
And they're taking all the jolts
Like heroes too,
But on figures they are hazy,
Their fractions are quite slazy,
Mathematic's not for them,
Twixt me and you.
So the knights of bar and bottle,
While battling with the tax
Of $3.20 on each hundred proof
Called in their wise guy neighbors
But do you know, by jabbers,
They were stung on figures too,
These business gents.
Perhaps our friends, the "drys",
Are the true percentage guys
But of course they couldn't make the test,
For the swinging door preclude
And they are in no mood
To show up at their very best.
However at the finish some wizzards came to light,
The figures neat were listed to a T,
There are smiles once more in glasses,
There is polish now on brasses,
For the Inventory Day is past, you see.
